Ben at <ben@musicdish.com>...Bob Burnham's second supplement to A Technical Guide to Old-time Radio, Recording & Audio Production will become available in October.

The book itself is a completely updated collection of columns and information about how to collect old-time radio shows, getting the best sound and results from available equipment, how computers fit into the picture as well as commentary on the various political issues of collecting shows.

The second supplement provides a guide to a small sampling of both good and bad shows in circulation, somewhat in the spirit of what was attempted the previous book. The bottom line is simply 'which shows are good to listen to?' Further information plus an excerpt is here: <http://www.brcradio.com/techguide3a.html>

Cost of the book is still $10 (+ $5 s&h). After October, the price increases to $13. Available from: BRC PRODUCTIONS, P.O. THE SOUND OF DETECTION

Ellery Queen's Adventures in Radio

by Francis M. Nevins &

Martin Grams, Jr.

Ellery Queen, perhaps as famous as any fictional detective after Sherlock Holmes, was created by cousins Frederic Dannay and Manfred Lee over lunch one day in 1929. This led to more than 40 novels, a film series, a long and convoluted run on radio, and various runs on TV. For an initial $350 fee, Dannay and Lee would write one mystery per week, allowing both the guest armchair detective and radio listeners the opportunity to solve the mystery themselves, before the famous sleuth did.

This new publication includes a detailed account covering the lives of the creators, the how and why they moved Ellery Queen into radio, and a detailed history of the series during its long run on the airwaves (1939-48). Included in the chapters are reminiscences taken from interviews and correspondence with the creators themselves; with mystery writer and critic Anthony Boucher, who collaborated on more than 70 of the later radio adventures of the master detective; and with three of the actors who played Ellery over the years.

Includes an introduction by Larry Dobkin, who played Ellery Queen for a short time on the radio! Includes a detailed broadcast log with a chart showing various time slots, networks, sponsors, and competition. Brief biographies of cast and production crew. Capsule biographies of more than 350 personalities who appeared on the program as guest armchair detectives. A week-by-week log giving principal actors, announcer, director, composer-conductor, sponsor, script writers, plot synopsis (yes!), and much more. Appendices covering subjects like the early episodes of The Shadow that Dannay and Lee wrote without credit in order to learn the craft of radio writing, and other Ellery Queen incarnations on the radio.

Francis M. Nevins is the award-winning author of "Royal Bloodline: Ellery Queen, Author and Detective (1974) and "Cornell Woolrich: First You Dream, Then You Die" (1988). Francis Nevins has written for "Alfred Hitchcock Mystery Magazine" and "Ellery Queen Mystery Magazine." Martin Grams, Jr. is the author of numerous Old-Time Radio books including "The History of The Cavalcade of America" and "The Alfred Hitchcock Presents Companion." Both authors will be in attendance at the 27th Annual Friends of Old-Time Radio Convention in Newark, NJ on October 24 - 26, 2002. There will be a special book signing on Saturday the 26th. Those hours will be limited. If you plan to attend the convention, be sure to grab your copy and get this rare one-time opportunity to have your book personally autographed by both authors!

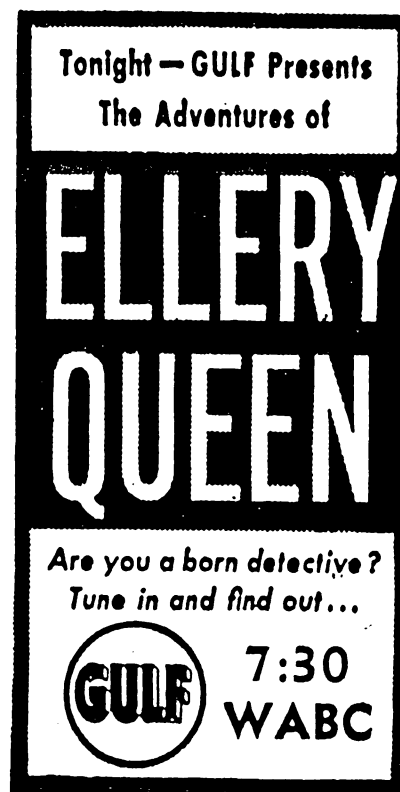

If you cannot attend the FOTR, and don't want to miss out on this special offer, you can pre-order your copy of the Ellery Queen book before October 20 and we'll arrange for your copy to be autographed by both authors, and shipped to you on Monday the 28th. Orders must be received by October 20, no later!

CONVENTION 2002: UPDATE # 2

October 24 – 27, 2002

General Information

All information about Seating, Ads, Registration, Rooms are on the first update that came with the flyer. Also, don't forget to let me know what you are eating for Thursday and please preregister. If you do not let me know what food you want on Thursday, you will get London Broil. Those coming for the day on Friday and Saturday will save $5 a day by preregistering. Also, if you are coming for the day only, you will not have to stand in line and fill out a registration card if you preregister. Don't forget the package prices. ...Remember: Those people paying for the day must pay an extra $10 if they want to stay for the cocktail hour and hors d'oeuvres. The cocktail hour is for dinner guests only.

If you wish to stay for the re-creations at night and you do not stay for dinner, the cost is $15.

Guest Changes

New Guests: Soupy Sales
